Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 11/19/01 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Double Patenting

2. Claims 1-13 of this application conflict with claims 1-13 of Application No. 10/078,058. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application. Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated Kivela et al. (6,052,070).

Regarding claim 1, Kivela et al. disclose method for forming a character comprising pressing at least one of said first and second buttons for scrolling and searching characters appearing on display means in either one of a forward direction and backward (see fig.2-3, elements 33, 34 and it description); and shifting at least one of said first and second buttons for selecting a desired character and fixing said desired character (see fig.2-3, elements 33, 34, col.5, lines 22-23 and its description).

Regarding claims 2-5, 8-12, Kivela et al. further disclose scrolling, by pressing at least one of said first and second buttons, the characters appearing on said display means in the forward direction or the backward direction, and fixing, by shifting at least one of said first and second buttons, an input of a character selected (see fig.2-4, elements 33, 34, 35, 41 and its description).

Regarding claims 6 and 13, Kivela et al. further disclose terminal unit comprises a handy phone (see fig.1 and its description).

Regarding claim 7, Kivela et al. disclose method for forming a character comprising: display means (see fig.1-4 element 39); a first store section storing character sequences (see fig.2-3, element 39 and its description); inputting means including at least one of a first and a second button capable of being pressed or shifted independently of each other (see fig.1-4, elements 33, 34 and its description); and control means for controlling, when pressing at least one of said first and second buttons , a scroll of characters appearing on said display means in either one of vertical and a horizontal direction and in either one of a forward direction and a backward direction (see fig.2-3, elements 33, 34, 35, 41 and its description); wherein said control means scrolls, when at least one of said first and second buttons is pressed, the characters in the forward direction or backward direction to thereby search said characters, and selects, when at least one of said first and second buttons is shifted, a desired character and fixes said desired character to thereby input said desired character, said desired being written to said first store section (see fig.2-3, elements 33, 34, 35, 41, col.5, lines 6-31 and its description).
